FLY - Fresh Lifelines for Youth	To prevent juvenile crime and incarceration through legal education, mentoring, and leadership training.	Aila Malik - Acting Executive Director (408)263-2630 Aila@flyprogram.org	FLY provides services to our most at-risk and disadvantaged youth.

Please describe your target audience, what services you would provide and how you specifically would like to help the youth of North Sunnyvale

FLY has three main program areas, law, mentoring, and leadership training.

The Law Program teaches at-risk youth about the law and consequences of crime, while building important life skills such as empathy, problem solving, and anger management. We help youth realize that decisions they make as kids can follow them for the rest of their lives. National research show that kids exposed to legal education are less likely to break the law, and at FLY we find that when youth know better they do better.

In our Mentor Program, FLY matches youth who are struggling with drug or alcohol addictions with an adult role model that meets with them every week. For many of our youth their mentors are the first positive and sober adults they have ever had in their lives. The mentor helps the youth discover how to solve problems without turning to drugs or alcohol and how to have fun without being high.

The Leadership Program was designed by FLY's youth who wanted to give back to the community. The youth complete leadership training and participate in over 1800 hours of community service each year. Their activities have included visiting senior citizens, feeding the homeless, and making presentations to middle school youth about the dangers of drugs, violence, and crime.

How do you fund your organization and do you provide funding for other organizations or projects?

FLY is funded from a variety of souces. Fourty percent of our funding comes from government funding, 30 percent comes from foundations, and 30 percent of our funding come from individual donors. FLY does not provide funding for other organizations or projects.

CLC targets middle school youth at risk of joining gangs or disengaging from the school environment. We provide a leadership elective during the school day, facilitated by a CLC staff member and supported by a teacher. The program runs for a semester and trains the group to lead their peers in a teambuilding program. The program teaches facilitation skills, and provides opportunities to develop teamwork and trusting relationships with other students and adults. By providing this program, named LEAP (Leading to Empowerment and Prevention), CLC helps the youth of North Sunnyvale to develop positive leadership skills and engage in the school day.

CLC runs a similar, high school leadership program, LEAD (Leading to Empowerment and Development) that trains teens to lead a high ropes course and teambuilding day for their friends and family. The program meets once a week, afterschool, and is open to teens throughout the Northern Santa Clara and Southern San Mateo counties.

How do you fund your organization and do you provide funding for other organizations or projects?

CLC is funded by fee-for-service program revenues, grants, and individual donations. We do not provide funding for other organizations, but do solicit grants for collaborative work.

We intend to be actively involved in Columbia Middle school but are just getting engaged with that campus and learning how we can help. Our desires it to strengthen families, help encourage and teach our children and youth and generally make an impact in lives of people in Sunnyvale in name of Jesus Christ.
